

INTRODUCTION OF BENGALI DEPARTMENT

The Department of Bengali presently offers B.A. with Honours and B.A. programme under CBCS and Bengali Major and Minor programmes under the NEP 2020. The Department offers interdisciplinary Skill based as well as value added courses across various Departments. The department consists of enthusiastic teachers committed to creating democratic academic culture. Presently, the department comprises two regular faculty members and two SACT faculty having considerable teaching experience. Apart from the core courses, the department offers Discipline specific elective courses including Unish sataker bangla kabya o prabandha, Unishsatakerbanglanatak o kathasahitya, Bish Sataker Swadhinata Purbaborti bangla katha sahitya, Sahitya bisayak prabandha o Lakasahittya etc.

The Department trains and prepare its students Rabindra Jayanti, International Mother Language Day, activities. Students of the department are also actively involved in various other extra-curricular activities such as NSS, departmental exhibition, quiz, debating songs, recitation, dance, sports etc. The students of the department bring out an annual wall magazine, "SONAR TORI", where students and departmental teachers get an opportunity to express themselves creatively.

Vision of the Department

The vision of one of the departments of Jamalpur Mahavidyalaya, Bengali Department, is to nurture the latent talent of students in Jamalpur and its surroundings, through inculcating in them the knowledge of their mother tongue. Mother tongue is life blood and students are taught to help them express their feelings in native language. The aim is to preserve the cultural backbone of Bengal by enlightening them about the rich literary treasure trove of Bengali language and by making them research-oriented, help them to contribute to the heritage of Bengali literature.

Mission of the Department

The mission is to make the students love society and be responsible for the country through moral education, imparted through readings of literary texts. That Bengali talents should be honoured on the global stage through numerous writings, research papers, is the dedicated aim of the department.
